LIFE IN BETWEEN

Three couples in Washington state had a mission to complete. Three of the six adults had lost both parents within a year or so. They decided to scatter their parents' ashes on the mountain behind the longtime family home. So their hike upward began.

In time, they found a rocky place that seemed ideal for scattering the remains. It was a lovely spot they could remember and return to whenever they wished.

The Rev. Ann Lewis of Snohomish, Washington, later meditated on that sad yet important occasion. She wrote: "It occurs to me that most of life we live somewhere in between the valleys and mountaintops — in gray ordinariness that has subtle reminders of our mortality as well as promises of future joy. But it is the reports of what glory is above that empower us to endure and persevere in faith."

RUBY'S PANTRY

Ruby's Pantry Moorhead will be distributing corporate surplus food to hungry people from 5-7pm, Tuesday August 22nd, at Moorhead State Community & Technical College. Participants are asked to donate $20, which covers the cost of storing and transporting the food. Each household receive two large boxes of food for every $20 they donate.
