THE SPICE OF LIFE

First Kings 10:1-13 tells of the Queen of Sheba's visit to King Solomon. She had heard of his extraordinary wisdom and prosperity and apparently thought the tales too good to be true. Turns out, she is pleasantly surprised to learn differently. The king and queen exchange lavish gifts (she brings him huge quantities of spices, and he gives her "every desire that she expressed"), symbolizing their mutual respect and admiration.

Who has been like the incredible King Solomon to you? Whose astonishing reputation has proven real — and become an asset to you? What gifts (not necessarily material ones) have you and that individual lavished on each other? Remember to follow the example of St. Paul by thanking God for that person's presence in your life (see 1 Thessalonians 1:2).

LEFT BEHIND

A father was reading Bible stories to his young son. "The man named Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city," he said, "but his wife looked back and was turned into a pillar of salt."

The boy asked, "What happened to the flea?"
